MANY ATTEND YEHLE FUNERAL

SERVICES HELD AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH THIS MORNING.

HIS CHARACTER PRAISED

Father Lawrence Speaks of Christian Charity of Mr. Yehle—K. of C., In a Body.

Funeral services for Conrad W. Yehle, prominent Maryville merchant, who died Friday evening at Osceola, Ia., following a car accident, were held this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's Church. The services were largely attended.

Requiem High Mass with Father Anselm as Celebrant, Father Richard as Deacon and Father Clement as Sub-Deacon, was given. Father Anselm has known Mr. Yehle practically all his life. The funeral sermon was given by the Rev. Father Lawrence, pastor of St. Mary's Church, who told about the Christian charity of Mr. Yehle and about his last act in befriending a young man, as well as touching on his life in a religious and civic way.

The choir sang the Requiem, with Miss Hilda Lahr as accompanist, and Anthony Blatter sang the solo part of "Raise Me Jesus To Thy Bosom."

All of the employees of the Yehle store attended the services in a body. The members of the Knights of Columbus also attended in a body. The honorary pall bearers were W. C. Pierce, Will F. Phares, J. F. Hull, George Robb Ellison, James Todd and F. P. Reuillard. The active pall bearers were A. Romasser, Louis Gram, Mike Sturm, John Murrin, E. L. Ferritor and Fred Diss. Those in charge of the flowers were H. L. Haines, Mitchell Welling, Byron Price and Fred Bellows.

Several of the stores in the city closed during the hour of the funeral services. The Yehle store was closed until 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The young man, William Strunk of Norristown, Pa., who was with Mr. Yehle and his son, Eugene, when the accident occurred, and who had been befriended by Mr. Yehle, was in attendance at the services.

Burial took place at St. Mary's cemetery beside the remains of Mr. Yehle's father and mother.

Many beautiful flowers were in the floral offerings.

Thugs Slug Tony Graham of Graham

Skull Fractured and $29 in Money and Jewelry Taken by St. Joseph Hold-up Men.

(St. Joseph Gazette).

Tony Graham, 48 years old, Graham, Mo., received a fractured skull when he was slugged by chance acquaintances who robbed him of $29, a watch and a ring, late Sunday afternoon near the Francis street station. Graham was taken to central police station in a police ambulance after Patrolman I. J. Swope found him wandering north on the railroad tracks in a dazed condition, almost a mile from the place of assault.

The police physician ordered the man sent to Noyes hospital. His condition is not critical, it was said.

Graham said he met four or five men in the railroad station and after several minutes of conversation it was suggested that they walk up the tracks. About 150 yards north of the station he was struck on the head, with what, he did not know.

Cook and Gaugh See Many Sights on Trip

Cook Attended Loeb-Leopold Trial—Took Three Weeks Motor Trip In Eastern States.

Floyd Cook and William Gaugh returned yesterday from a three weeks vacation trip in the east. The two boys traveled in Gaugh's Ford speedster and covered a distance of over 4,000 miles while on the trip. The only dirt roads which they traveled on were in the state of Missouri.

The two motored to Washington and stayed a day. From Washington they traveled to Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York. BANQUET AT ELKS CLUB

Delegation of Forty-Five, With Degree Team, Here for Ceremony From Conception.

Seventeen women were initiated into the Maryville Circle No. 296, Daughters of Isabella at a meeting held at the I. O. O. F. hall yesterday afternoon. Following the initiatory ceremonies an initiation banquet, served by the Nixson brothers, was held at the Elks Club. Forty-five of the 142 persons at this banquet were from Conception. The degree team that put on the work was also from Conception.

At the banquet, Mrs. W. F. Determan of Conception, who was toastmistress, spoke on "Our New Circle." The Rev. Father Niemann had as his subject, "Unity." "Woman's Work in the World Today" was the subject discussed by Father Richard Felix. Ed Costello, Grand Knight, made the closing talk. Program also included vocal selections by Tony Blatter and Miss Pauline Mahoney; a violin selection by Miss Pierse; and a reading by Eugene Maline.

Miss Maye Sturm, regent of the Maryville Circle, spoke on "Our Motto,' and said, in part:

"Our motto, Unity, Friendship and Charity, embodies three fundamentals of success that are to be found in any worthy organization that is active and growing.

"These three things are so closely connected that if we were to remove any one of them it would eventually result in the failure of that organization to carry out its purpose, no matter how well fixed and well supported it may have been in the beginning.

"Upon Friendship, Unity depends. One of the main purposes of our Circle is to create and foster Friendship.

"You have all heard the widely used slogan, 'Get Acquainted With Your Neighbor, You Might Like Him.' We might fit that slogan into our every day life or into our church work and be the better for it.

"And the greatest of these is charity. Where there is no Charity neither Friendship nor Unity can exist."

The candidates were Mrs. Lyda Diss, Mrs. Elsie Cockayne, Mrs. Stella Brash, Mrs. Anna O'Brien, Mrs. Margaret Dougan, Mrs. Agatha Lyons, Miss Bertha Tobin, Miss Mollie Tobin, Miss Lorena Schaefer, Miss Vivian Buhler, Miss Katherine O'Donnell, Miss Rose Flanagan, Miss Annetta Bird, Miss Theresa Madden, Miss Ella O'Grady, Miss Ora Barmann and Miss Nora Ryan of Tarkio.

CORN DAMAGED BY HAIL STORM

MOST DAMAGE IN EAST PART OF THE COUNTY.

HAIL PLAYED HAVOC

Many Window Glasses Broken, Trees Blown Down and Shingles Blown Off.

Wind and hail played havoc with corn crops in this part of the country Saturday afternoon and night. East of Maryville the major part of the damage is reported. In this section ears and leaves were shorn clean from the stalks and even weeds were flattened to the earth.

The total rainfall was .47 of an inch, J. R. Brink, official weather observer, said today.

Hailstones, some of them as large as walnuts, fell in Ravenwood and numerous window panes were broken as a result.

One party, returning from Stanberry late Saturday night, said that the wind was so strong that at no time was he able to proceed at a rate of more than fifteen miles an hour.

A hail storm is reported to have swept from Clearmont to Stanberry Saturday night, doing considerable damage to the maturing corn. The most damage noticed was from Conception Junction to Stanberry, the hail stripping the corn stalks and in some cases breaking the corn stalks to the ground. Around the vicinity of Clearmont corn was stripped badly but not as much as from Conception Junction to Stanberry.

At Burlington Junction the rain was accompanied by a high wind. The damage incurred here was chiefly to telephone and electric light wires and limbs from many of the trees were torn off, according to C. W. Allen, this morning.

The roof of the new barn at the county farm, west of the city, was blown off during the wind storm Saturday night. A chimney on the house at the county farm was also blown over during the storm and fell through a portion of the roof of the house. The estimated damage at the county farm has as yet been undetermined.

The wind broke twenty-three window panes out of the home of W. L. Kidd in Bedison. In addition it broke the glass in a number of windows in the Christian Church of that town. A slight hailstorm accompanied the wind.

Mrs. Archer Elected H. S. Study Supervisor

Mrs. Blaine Archer was selected yesterday as the new high school study supervisor. She will have charge of the study room at all times, instead of the various teachers having charge in their off periods. The board announces that the change was made this year for two reasons, first because the teachers had harder schedules than usual, and because they feel that the discipline will be better if one teacher has charge all the time.

Coach Jackson will be here the first of the week and will very likely issue a call for candidates to turn out Monday or Tuesday.—Shenandoah, Ia., World.

Aley and Doyle Take Sheep Prizes

Aley & Doyle, sheepmen living four miles north of Maryville, carried away eight prizes on their Shropshire sheep at the Clarinda fair held last week. Two pens of sheep were exhibited and the following prizes were won: First and champion on 2-year-old ram, first on yearling ram, third on lamb ram, first and champion on 2-year-old ewe, third on ewe lamb, and champion on flock.

There were 131 head of sheep on exhibit at the fair, the superintendent saying it was the largest exhibition of sheep in years. Mr. Aley, in talking of the fair at Clarinda, said he wished that Maryville could have a fair that would do as well as Clarinda's.

Miss Kate Lamar of Elmo came yesterday enroute to Des Moines, Ia., where she will teach school, and visited at the L. P. Colvin home.

Margaret Jean and Warren Seldman of Stanberry returned home this morning after a several dayys' visit with their aunt, Miss Virginia Rose.

Hail, Hail, Hail . . . t the Gang Was Inside.

If they weren't under cover somebody was battered as if shrapnel were falling in a barrage fire.

Pellets of hail, so large that they would not fit into a regulation sized tea cup fell Saturday afternoon during the storm for a duration of fifteen minutes in Clyde and vicinity, Charles Teson, cashier of the Bank of Conception, is quoted as saying this afternoon.

The destructive hail storm of Saturday afternoon is reported to have extended from near Braddyville, Ia., to near Cameron, Mo., and was about six miles in width, taking in a strip of territory from Ravenwood to six miles west.

Mr. Teson said the corn stalks were stripped and alfalfa fields pounded into the ground.

DARROW PREACHES MERCY TO JUDGE

LEOPOLD-LOEB TRIAL IS NEARING END WITH DEFENSE PLEA.

WARNING TO PARENTS

Parents Should Examine Their Children, He Says—Society Partly to Blame.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—"Bobby Franks will have died in vain if these two mad boys, his slayers, are taken out and hanged."

This thought was thundered at Judge Caverly today by Clarence Darrow, defense attorney, in the heighth of an impassioned appeal to the jurist to give Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb life terms in prison instead of the gallows for the murder.

It was more of a serman that Darrow was preaching than a closing argument of a criminal trial. He featured the thought, "Poor little Bobby Franks had a mission in the fourteen years of his life. This poor boy's life," Darrow cried out, should appeal to every father and every mother to make them appraise their child. His death is a warning to them to examine their children to see what was in them. (He was referring to Leopold and Loeb).

"Society, too, should take its share of responsibility for this crime and use this terrible lesson to make childhood easier and safer and to do something to lessen the hatred of life as applied to that which other men only consider from the scholar's standpoint.

LOCATELLI FOUND ADRIFT IN OCEAN

ITALIAN AVIATOR HAD BEEN DRIFTING FOUR DAYS.

PLANE IS DESTROYED

Round The World Flier and Three Companions Not Injured But Greatly Fatigued.

On Board the U. S. Cruiser Richmond Aug. 25.—Lieut. Tony Locatelli, Italian airman, who has been missing since last Thursday, was picked up 125 miles east of Cape Farwell yesterday by this ship. He had been drifting helplessly in his disabled seaplane since last Thursday.

Locatelli and his three companions, the pilot and two mechanics, were not injured but are suffering keenly from fatigue. Their plane was forced down by motor trouble as they were nearing the Greenland coast. They were unable to rise again.

The Italian plane was destroyed upon orders from Locatelli and the castaways will be taken to Madridor on board the Richmond.

Washington, Aug. 25.—The American army aviators reeled off another lap of their world flight yesterday, and were at Ivigtut, Greenland last night.

Skirting the coast, they covered the 126 miles from Frederiksdal in a little more than two hours.

In a message announcing arrival of the two planes at Ivigtut, Lieutenant Smith, in command, said motors be changed and both machines completely overhauled before the next lap of the flight—five hundred miles across water to Indian Harbor, Labrador.

Lieutenant Smith made no reference to Lieutenant Locatelli, Italian aviator, who set out with the Americans from Iceland, but failed to arrive with them at Frederiksdal.

Search Continues.

From the cruiser Milwaukee, in waters nearby, came word the search for Lieutenant Locatelli was continuing, and the Danish authorities were cooperating to the utmost.

Lieutenant Smith's message, addressed to Major General Patrick, chief of the army air service, said a pontoon of his plane had been damaged by ice last night, and sailors and natives had been employed to keep the ice away.

A radio dispatch from the Milwaukee gave the terse information the planes took off from Frederiksdal at 1:50 o'clock in the afternoon, Greenwich meantime and had "arrived o. k.," at Ivigtut at 4:09 o'clock—two hours and nineteen minutes alter.

Another message indicated clearly the flight was made today, although army and navy officers here were certain this was not true. Lieutenant Smith's dispatch was not timed or dated. The message from the Milwaukee arrived here at 3:55 o'clock this afternoon, eastern time.

Gratified by Fliers.

The cruiser Raleigh, General Patrick was told, was proceeding to Ray Island, while the cruiser Richmond would continue the search for Lieutenant Locatelli if its supply of fuel permitted.

The Milwaukee sent word a request might be forwarded to have two destroyers sent to the Gulf of Maine to assist in guarding the flight from Pictou Harbor, N. S., to Boston.

Army air service officials were gratified that Lieutenant Smith and his companion had advanced to Ivigtut without mishap, although they had contemplated no difficulty in bridging that relatively short distance.

A real test, it was agreed, faced the two pilots and their mechanics on their next jump, which will be entirely across water, although the distance is considerably shorter than that successfully covered between Iceland and the southern tip of Greenland.

Better Base at Ivigtut.

Supplies are available at Ivigtut to permit a complete overhauling of the two planes, and it was for this reason the aviators swung up the western coast of Greenland, rather than attempt a flight direct to Labrador from Fredericksdal, where only a temporary base with few supplies has been established.

While there was no word from the fliers as to how long they probably would remain at Ivigtut, officials here were of the opinion it would take them a day or so to overhaul their planes.

"MA" FERGUSON WINS IN TEXAS

WOMAN WINS DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY BY 80,000 VOTES.

AN ANTI-KLAN VICTORY

Her Victory Vindicates Impeached Husband's Name—Election Is Almost Assured.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 25.—Returns from 227 out of 252 counties in the state, 168 incomplete, gave Mrs. Miriam Ferguson 397,936 and Robertson 315,710 for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 25.—Assured of victory by an overwhelming majority for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Texas, Mrs. Miriam "Ma" Ferguson, in a message to the voters of the nation, today pleaded for nation-wide elimination of the Ku Klux Klan which organization supported her opponent in Saturday's run-off primary.

"The resolution adopted in New York by the Democratic national convention can be construed only as a denunciation of the Ku Klux Klan," Mrs. Robertson declared.

"If interpreted as it should be in this light the chances for a national Democratic victory in November will be greatly increased."

Each hour of tabulating the returns found her lead growing in a crushing defeat over Judge Felix D. Robertson, Klan candidate. The latest figures announced her majority as 80,000.

Mrs. Ferguson has received more than 1,000 telegrams congratulating her upon her victory, some of the messages facetitously offering "bed sheets and pillow cases at bargain prices."

The Statement.

Mrs. Ferguson's statement follows:

"After receiving more than 1,000 telegrams today from every part of the state and from people in every walk of life, it is quite evident that my victory in Saturday's primary was a victory for the masses as distinguished from a victory of personality.

"The victory yesterday tells plainer than words what the people think of the Ku Klux Klan after they have had opportunity to observe its workings and purposes. Texas people do know and ought to know from their opportunity more about what the Klan means than any other state in the union, and just as soon as other states have time to learn the real purposes of the Klan and its secret desire to set up here a super-government they will do just like Texas did yesterday and repudiate it in terms unmistakable.

"A Dangerous Combination."

"Stripped of all camouflage every informed person knows that the Klan is based upon religious prejudice and its managements has been put into the hands of the unscrupulous. A more dangerous combination could not threaten the people of any country. It is therefore the duty of every candidate and every party to take the people into complete confidence and let them know their private and public attitude on this question.

"If it can be made to appear to the nation that the Democratic platform, condemning religious intolerance, means, as everybody knows it does mean, emphatic opposition to the Kn Klux Klan, the chance of Democratic success would be increased manifold."

A WORTHWHILE WORK.

Mark Twain was the man who made Missouri famous, about the period when penny-a-liner liars who wrote blood-and-thunder books anent Jesse James were making the State infamous. The fame survives and widens, the infamy has been out-lived.

Opening of the Mark Twain Memorial Park at the edge of Florida, the tiny village in Monroe County where Samuel Langhorne Clemens, the future Mark Twain, was born, drew approximately 6000 Missourians the other day; but it was not merely a rural Missouri event, even though "The "Arkansas Traveler" played by the only left-handed fiddler of authentic record was starred on the program. It was an affair of world-wide interest. For some years before he died Mark Twain was accounted among the most famous men on earth. Emperors and Presidents, even such as William Hohenzollern and Theodore Roosevelt, were no more widely known than was this Missourian, who never held nor even sought public office. There was magic in the name Mark Twain, and that magic deepens as the years add mosses to his grave.

"All the world loves a lover." Mark Twain loved the human race, with certain obvious exceptions. The human race reciprocated; it continues to reciprocate. He was perhaps, the most vitally human of writers. In all his works he never found it necessary to imagine a character or a situation of the improbable or the impossible sort. His men and women, his boys and girls, were natural, normal humans, like himself. Moreover, all his writing was decent and clean and wholesome—though by no means puritanic. Mark Twain had an honest mind, and he never insulted his own intelligence.

Missourians have done well in creating this memorial to the foremost Missourian.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Neither Congress nor the present administration thought enough of American participation on the commission to solve the European tangle to make it official but they are developing a genuine admiration and affection for the work of the Dawes Commission now that it looks like success.

It was promised for John W. Davis that he would do his own thinking and express his views frankly and clearly and he seems to be living up to all advance notices. He has a straightforward, s-t-r-a-i-g-h-t-from-the shoulder way of declaring his views in unmistakable, yet inoffensive, language that must compel admiration and respect.

Foreign workers are pouring into France at the rate of 5,351 a day, but the influx is being absorbed by the manufacturing industries. With the trade revival expected under the terms of the settlement reached at the London conference, France will find room for an even larger immigration.

Premier Herriot of France seems to be made of the right stuff and to have a broader and more far reaching conception of his duty to his country than a good many of his countrymen. In his address yesterday in the Chamber of Deputies, he said: "The idea which dominated all my work at the London conference, was to place France in the right, because I was convinced, in years to come, France's greatest strength would be to be right. To put France in the right, is to assure her security and to say this, is not simply to speak as an idealist, but to remember the lessons of war which too many may have forgotten."

Mr. Dawes says "This is a campaign of brass tacks." Look out for a puncture, Calvin.

LINEBAUGH CABIN NOTED FOR CURIOS

COLLECTION OF 4,000 AT CLEARMONT'S LOST CABIN.

NATIVE WALNUT USED

Timbers From Linebaugh's Father's Farm—Many Stuffed Birds—Admittance to Cabin Is Free.

(St. Joseph News-Press.)

The American doughboy in France was credited with being the greatest souvenir hunter among allied soldiers, but the record for Northwest Missouri undoubtedly is held by William W. Linebaugh of Clearmont, Mo., who, in the last several years has gathered a collection of more than 4,000 curios of great variety.

Mr. Linebaugh's collection ranges from a mounted buffalo head to a mummified Egyption's hand, and from newspaper clippings of a murder to the hangman's noose.

Linebaugh began collecting relics twelve years ago and his first collection embraced twelve guns. He continued this until he had more than 200 fire-pieces. The desire for a wider variety grew on him until he began to add anything of interest he could obtain. Today he has a remarkably interesting collection.

While Mr. Linebaugh was motoring in Montana in 1919 he conceived the idea of building a cabin in which to house and display the curios which had become too numerous for the room used in his home. Upon his return to Clearmont he began work on the cabin, which was completed in 1920, and christened "Lost Cabin."

Made of Native Walnut.

The building is 30 feet wide and 60 feet long, and is made of native walnut cut from a forest on the Linebaugh farm. Only the best timber was used in the building and the interior is finished in walnut, even to the floor, window sills and doors.

Inside there are ten overhead beams and from each of these two electric lights are suspended. Two other light fixtures made of walnut hang in the middle of the room. At either end of the cabin there is a fireplace made of stones gathered in ten states and Canada. The cabin is in a small grove and presents a most picturesque appearance, adding beauty to the pretty town. Viewed from a distance the cabin has the appearance of a building in a far Western settlement. Wild animal skins and horns decorate the exterior.

The greeting at the entrance to the museum is by a sign, "Welcome to Lost Cabin," under which is an iron padlock attached to a strong chain, with a placard reading: "This lock was given to the Linebaugh collection by a jailer at St. Joseph, Mo., and is the lock that was formerly used on the old jail there."

Proves a Real Museum.

Upon entering the cabin the visitor is at once impressed with the atmosphere of a real museum. Stuffed animals, birds, guns and war relics are seen in great variety. All visitors are requested to register in a big book. This register contains the names of 3,199 persons who visited the cabin during the last year, including travelers from all parts of the country.

The collection contains many beautiful things as well as some grewsome ones. Linebaugh says that the rope with which Hez Rasco was hanged at Maryville, Mo., for murder, attracts the greatest attention. Attached to the rope are letters written by Rasco a short time before his execution. Another grewsome exhibit is an Indian chief's hand, taken from a grave, with his war weapons and jewelry, and a mummified Egyption's hand.

There is an inlaid wood table, which is said to have been made by a murdered who was serving a life term, and which took fourteen years in the making.

Animal and Bird Collection.

The animal and bird collection is excellent. Linebaugh in order to be able to preserve his relics took a course in taxidermy and has mounted many of his specimens, including heads of deer, buffalo, elk, mountain sheep, foxes and other animals. There are more than 100 specimens in the animal collection alone. Different varieties of birds of this part of the country also are displayed, as well as fish. The floor of the museum is covered with animal skin rugs, which add further to the primitive appearance. A chair made of buffalo horns is a noticeable adornment.

Linebaugh also displays more than 300 guns and 100 swords and sabers.

In one end of the museum hangs an old grain cradle presented by William E. Spratt of St. Joseph. There is also a file of old newspapers, among which is a copy of the New York Herald containing the story of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln. Another relic is a Bible printed in 1796.

Nephew of Late Czar Works in N. Y. Bank.

PRINCE DIMITRI

Prince Dimitri, 23, a nephew of the late Czar of Russia, is working as an assistant to the manager of the foreign exchange department of the National American Bank, in New York City. He will remain in the business. Asked if he would take American citizenship, he said he would remain a Russian always, and that some day he would return to Russia, but not while the Bolsheviki are in control.

W. W. Linebaugh is a son of Jeff Linebaugh, a retired farmer of Clearmont. The cabin is used by the town folks as a library and recreation place, and card parties are often held there by the women. Once a year Linebaugh gives a party to friends living in that part of the country.

The museum is open to visitors every week day and no admission fee is charged.

Given Absolutely Free

Here is a rare opportunity, for a limited time to secure the necessary stock to set a good "Family Orchard."

We Have Planned to Give Away Five Thousand (5,000) First Class Apple Trees

TO PATRONS NEXT SPRING.

(But you must take advantage of this offer promptly.)

To encourage the planting of more good "home orchards," (of which there is at present a great dearth in this section of Mo.), and thereby provide an adequate supply of home grown fruit, especially Apples— the "King of Fruits;" to double the purchasing power of the farmers' dollar! to advertise our stock and introduce it more generally among farmers and home owners all over Northwest Missouri, we have decided that, to each and every patron who orders of us—before these 5,000 trees are all allotted—as many as 25 First Class Apple Trees, 2 or 3 years old, 5 to 6 feet high, at our regular list price of 50 cents each, for delivery here at the Nursery in the spring of 1925.

We Will Give 25 First Class Apple Trees

2 or 3 years old, 5 to 6 feet high, all choice, highest quality varieties of our selection as a special inducement to set out an ideal acre orchard of Apples. (30 by 30 feet between trees, which is about the right distance, requires 50 trees to an acre).

You may select your list of varieties (of the 25 trees you order,) from any of the varieties we have in stock. Our stock includes most all the leading and best kinds for Northwest Missouri. We will give you the 25 premium trees of our selection of the choicest and best varieties. These trees are now growing here in our Nursery at Maryville, and they must be received here at our Packing Grounds in the spring of 1925. We positively will not ship any trees ordered under this special offer.

This offer is subject only to one condition, namely: Your order must be received before this 5,000 allotment has all been taken. Our free offer will automatically expire whenever that number has been set aside for our patrons.

It makes no difference whether you are an old or a new patron. All that is necessary is to get your order in in time.

We anticipate that many will act promptly on this liberal proposition; and have set the number to be given away at so large a total, because we want to encourage the growing of more fruit, and better fruit, and to make it easy for a large number (all who accept in time), to secure a good home orchard.

You can buy GOOD STOCK of all kinds from your home nursery at about one-third to one-half of the prices charged by agents for outside or distant nurseries. Our complete Spring Price List will be out about Dec. 1, but you should not delay accepting our Special Offer. Other stock may be ordered later, if desired, from our complete list, but that might be too late for this offer. Fill in the order blank Coupon below and mail it in to us. You need not pay us a cent until you call for the trees next Spring.

All orders will be acknowledgesd promptly.

MOVING PICTURES

"A Son of the Sahara," produced in Algeria by Edwin Carewe with Bert Lytell and Claire Windsor in the leading roles, described as the most elaborate desert romance ever filmed, appears at the Empire Theater tonight and tomorrow night.

The following went into the making of the picture:

12,500 Arabs, 8,000 camels, 2,500 horses, Spahii cavalry of the French government, Senegalese troops, mounted and afoot, Uulad Nail dancing girls from Biskra.

In one of the scenes alone, 587 camels appeared in a great caravan, while the others are shown at different periods of the picture. The entire population of two Algerian desert villages, turned out to appear as atmosphere in certain scenes. "A Son of the Sahara" is a First National attraction.

Communication

We, the members of Nodaway County W. C. T. U. in convention assembled, render thanks and praise to our heavenly father for the guidance and blessings that have furthered our work for temperance the past year and have a firm belief in his continuance of the same.

Believing that the foundation of the 18th amendment was laid in the school room, the result of instruction given according to law to all pupils in public schools.

Therefore, be it, Resolved that we encourage the continuance of such teaching co-operating with local, county and state school authorities and recommend the use of our temperance programs in the observance of the special days in the Sunday schools of our state.

Believing that the law as embodied in the 18th amendment written in the constitution by the will of the people insures life, liberty and prosperity. Therefore, be it Resolved, that we call upon the pulpit, the press, all organizations and individual citizens of the state to stand for the enforcement thereof as provided for in the Volstead Act and also the state enforcement act.

Resolved, that we deplore the influence of the 44 organizations of the wets that are seeking to modify the Volstead Act by raising the alcoholic content of beverages from ½ of 1 per cent to 2 3-4 per cent, and we urge the increased membership of the W. C. T. U. in Washington, D. C., as a counteracting force before Congress.

We desire to extend a vote of thanks to the Clearmont union for their hospitality to the pastor of the M. E. Church for the use of the building and the co-operation and splendid spirit manifested in a general way.

ENGLISH LABOR RULES SANELY

HAS COMPLETED ITS FIRST SESSION IN POWER.

FOE FEARED A TEST

Taxation Has Been Reduced, Soviet Recognized, Unemployment Slightly Reduced.

London, August 25.—Labor has come to the end of its first milestone in British Government and can look back with some pride.

When the Labor Party took up the reins of Government there was a great cry sent up that "Labor is not fit to rule!" Now the first session of a Labor Parliament has ended, and the British Empire still stands. There have been no great catastrophes, and there are no present threats of revolution. On the face of things, to a disinterested onlooker, it seems that Labor has proven its fitness to rule.

"The Labor Government has finished its first session, and its work must commend itself to the great mass of people who care for social well-being and national prosperity," Premier Ramsay MacDonald declared.

Foes Feared Test.

This statement might be set down as mere political assertiveness and boastfulness were it not for the very obvious fact that none of the opposition parties have been sure enough of their power to test strength with the Government in a general election. When the session came to an end in the closing days of July and August there were numberless opportunities for both the Tories and the Liberals to bring on a general election, but they failed to grasp these opportunities. It seems probable, that they did not dare, for the very simple reason that they did not feel that the Labor Government was in a sufficiently weak position to be brought before the people of the country for trial. The chances are that these opposition seers sensed the truth that Labor's rule had been such that it might gain more strength if it were hauled into the court of a general election.

Labor in power has had some fine achievements.

Taxation has been reduced by $150,000,000. Opponents of Labor explain that a similar reduction would have been made by any other party.

The Labor Government has succeeded where two previous governments failed—namely in bringing the reparations problem to a settlement.

Soviet Recognized.

Labor has recognized Russia and has entered into a treaty with the Soviet Government—an achievement which is questioned by the poosition but which may prove its worth in coming months.

Housing conditions will be bettered when Labor's program is carried out, although the opposition again claims that Labor merely carried out proposals put forth by previous governments.

Three serious strikes have been settled by the Labor Government.

Disarmament conferences to reduce land and air forces are on the program of the Government.

The unemployment situation is slightly better, at least, no worse, and trade has not suffered.

Labor has acted where previous governments merely proposed to act.

The outstanding fact in Labor's regime, however, is that critics of Labor have been utterly confounded, and those who six months ago made dire predictions of a bolshevik England in red ruin now blush when they read the speeches they made.

Autumn will find Labor back before Parliament in a position that promises to bring increasing strength.

Few Points Separate Leaders in the Majors

Both New York Teams Are Leading By Scant Margin—Kansas City Almost in the Cellar.

Approximately six more weeks before the World Series again and the leaders in the American League are tied up so closely that a game thrown away here and there may cost any of the four teams the pennant. In the National League the Giants have it pretty much their own way but have been pushed and hammered into an extremely hot position by the Smoky city of Pennsylvania.

The Yanks lost to Detroit yesterday while the Senators won their third straight from the Pale Sox, cutting the Yanks lead over Washington down to one point. The standing of the teams in the first division of the American League counting yesterday's games:

New York, .571; Washington, .570; Detroit, .550; St. Louis, .513. St. Louis has been dragging along above the .500 point but seems unable to make its spurts continue. Yesterday Cleveland walloped the Browns 8 to 1.

While the Yanks were being defeated yesterday the Giants lost to the Cubs, 6-1 and the Cards handed Brooklyn a double-header defeat. The Giants now head the percentage column with .619; Pittsburg next at .586; Brooklyn in third place at .550 and Chicago close with .552. St. Louis is in sixth position being one of the three teams below the .500 mark, at .433.

St. Paul leads the American Association with a percentage of .578 and is followed closely by Indianapolis at .576. Kansas City is next to the cellar at .452. The Blues broke even with St. Paul yesterday.

SERVICES HELD AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH THIS MORNING.

HIS CHARACTER PRAISED

Father Lawrence Speaks of Christian Charity of Mr. Yehle—K. of C., In a Body.

Funeral services for Conrad W. Yehle, prominent Maryville merchant, who died Friday evening at Osceola, Ia., following a car accident, were held this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's Church. The services were largely attended.

Requiem High Mass with Father Anselm as Celebrant, Father Richard as Deacon and Father Clement as Sub-Deacon, was given. Father Anselm has known Mr. Yehle practically all his life. The funeral sermon was given by the Rev. Father Lawrence, pastor of St. Mary's Church, who told about the Christian charity of Mr. Yehle and about his last act in befriending a young man, as well as touching on his life in a religious and civic way.

The choir sang the Requiem, with Miss Hilda Lahr as accompanist, and Authony Blatter sang the solo part of "Raise Me Jesus To Thy Bosom."

All of the employees of the Yehle store attended the services in a body. The members of the Knights of Columbus also attended in a body. The honorary pall bearers were W. C. Pierce, Will F. Phares, J. F. Hull, George Robb Ellison, James Todd and F. P. Reuillard. The active pall bearers were A. Romasser, Louis Gram, Mike Sturm, John Murrin, E. L. Ferritor and Fred Diss. Those in charge of the flowers were H. L. Haines, Mitchell Welling, Byron Price and Fred Bellows.

Several of the stores in the city closed during the hour of the funeral services. The Yehle store was closed until 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The young man, William Strunk of Norristown, Pa., who was with Mr. Yehle and his son, Eugene, when the accident occurred, and who had been befriended by Mr. Yehle, was in attendance at the services.

Burial took place at St. Mary's cemetery beside the remains of Mr. Yehle's father and mother.

Many beautiful flowers were in the floral offerings.

Skull Fractured and $29 in Money and Jewelry Taken by St. Joseph Hold-up Men.

(St. Joseph Gazette).

Tony Graham, 48 years old, Graham, Mo., received a fractured skull when he was slugged by chance acquaintances who robbed him of $29, a watch and a ring, late Sunday afternoon near the Francis street station. Graham was taken to central police station in a police ambulance after Patrolman I. J. Swope found him wandering north on the railroad tracks in a dazed condition, almost a mile from the place of assault.

The police physician ordered the man sent to Noyes hospital. His condition is not critical, it was said.

Graham said he met four or five men in the railroad station and after several minutes of conversation it was suggested that they walk up the tracks. About 150 yards north of the station he was struck on the head, with what, he did not know.

"Our motto, Unity, Friendship and Charity, embodies three fundamentals of success that are to be found in any worthy organization that is active and growing.

"These three things are so closely connected that if we were to remove any one of them it would eventually result in the failure of that organization to carry out its purpose, no matter how well fixed and well supported it may have been in the beginning.

"Upon Friendship, Unity depends. One of the main purposes of our Circle is to create and foster Friendship.

"You have all heard the widely used slogan, 'Get Acquainted With Your Neighbor, You Might Like Him.' We might fit that slogan into our every day life or into our church work and be the better for it.

"And the greatest of these is charity. Where there is no Charity neither Friendship nor Unity can exist."

CORN DAMAGED BY HAIL STORM

MOST DAMAGE IN EAST PART OF THE COUNTY.

HAIL PLAYED HAVOC

Many Window Glasses Broken, Trees Blown Down and Shingles Blown Off.

Wind and hail played havoc with corn crops in this part of the country Saturday afternoon and night. East of Maryville the major part of the damage is reported. In this section ears and leaves were shorn clean from the stalks and even weeds were flattened to the earth.

The total rainfall was .47 of an inch, J. R. Brink, official weather observer, said today.

Hailstones, some of them as large as walnuts, fell in Ravenwood and numerous window panes were broken as a result.

One party, returning from Stanberry late Saturday night, said that the wind was so strong that at no time was he able to proceed at a rate of more than fifteen miles an hour.

A hail storm is reported to have swept from Clearmont to Stanberry Saturday night, doing considerable damage to the maturing corn. The most damage noticed was from Conception Junction to Stanberry, the hail stripping the corn stalks and in some cases breaking the corn stalks to the ground. Around the vicinity of Clearmont corn was stripped badly but not as much as from Conception Junction to Stanberry.

At Burlington Junction the rain was accompanied by a high wind. The damage incurred here was chiefly to telephone and electric light wires and limbs from many of the trees were torn off, according to C. W. Allen, this morning.

The roof of the new barn at the county farm, west of the city, was blown off during the wind storm Saturday night. A chimney on the house at the county farm was also blown over during the storm and fell through a portion of the roof of the house. The estimated damage at the county farm has as yet been undetermined.

The wind broke twenty-three window panes out of the home of W. L. Kidd in Bedison. In addition it broke the glass in a number of windows in the Christian Church of that town. A slight hailstorm accompanied the wind.

Mrs. Archer Elected H. S. Study Supervisor

Mrs. Blaine Archer was selected yesterday as the new high school study supervisor. She will have charge of the study room at all times, instead of the various teachers having charge in their off periods. The board announces that the change was made this year for two reasons, first because the teachers had harder schedules than usual, and because they feel that the discipline will be better if one teacher has charge all the time.

Coach Jackson will be here the first of the week and will very likely issue a call for candidates to turn out Monday or Tuesday.—Shenandoah, Ia., World.

Two pens of sheep were exhibited and the following prizes were won: First and champion on 2-year-old ram, first on yearling ram, third on lamb ram, first and champion on 2-year-old ewe, third on ewe lamb, and champion on flock.

There were 131 head of sheep on exhibit at the fair, the superintendent saying it was the largest exhibition of sheep in years. Mr. Aley, in talking of the fair at Clarinda, said he wished that Maryville could have a fair that would do as well as Clarinda's.

Miss Kate Lamar of Elmo came yesterday enroute to Des Moines, Ia., where she will teach school, and visited at the L. P. Colvin home.

Margaret Jean and Warren Seldman of Stanberry returned home this morning after a several dayys' visit with their aunt, Miss Virginia Rose.

Hail, Hail, Hail . . . t the Gang Was Inside.

If they weren't under cover somebody was battered as if shrapnel were falling in a barrage fire.

Pellets of hail, so large that they would not fit into a regulation sized tea cup fell Saturday afternoon during the storm for a duration of fifteen minutes in Clyde and vicinity, Charles Teson, cashier of the Bank of Conception, is quoted as saying this afternoon.

The destructive hail storm of Saturday afternoon is reported to have extended from near Braddyville, Ia., to near Cameron, Mo., and was about six miles in width, taking in a strip of territory from Ravenwood to six miles west.

Mr. Teson said the corn stalks were stripped and alfalfa fields pounded into the ground.

DARROW PREACHES MERCY TO JUDGE

LEOPOLD-LOEB TRIAL IS NEARING END WITH DEFENSE PLEA.

WARNING TO PARENTS

Parents Should Examine Their Children, He Says—Society Partly to Blame.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—"Bobby Franks will have died in vain if these two mad boys, his slayers, are taken out and hanged."

This thought was thundered at Judge Caverly today by Clarence Darrow, defense attorney, in the heighth of an impassioned appeal to the jurist to give Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb life terms in prison instead of the gallows for the murder.

It was more of a serman that Darrow was preaching than a closing argument of a criminal trial. He featured the thought, "Poor little Bobby Franks had a mission in the fourteen years of his life. This poor boy's life," Darrow cried out, should appeal to every father and every mother to make them appraise their child. His death is a warning to them to examine their children to see what was in them. (He was referring to Leopold and Loeb).

"Society, too, should take its share of responsibility for this crime and use this terrible lesson to make childhood easier and safer and to do something to lessen the hatred of life as applied to that which other men only consider from the scholar's standpoint.

LOCATELLI FOUND ADRIFT IN OCEAN

ITALIAN AVIATOR HAD BEEN DRIFTING FOUR DAYS.

PLANE IS DESTROYED

Round The World Flier and Three Companions Not Injured But Greatly Fatigued.

On Board the U. S. Cruiser Richmond Aug. 25.—Lieut. Tony Locatelli, Italian airman, who has been missing since last Thursday, was picked up 125 miles east of Cape Farwell yesterday by this ship. He had been drifting helplessly in his disabled seaplane since last Thursday.

Locatelli and his three companions, the pilot and two mechanics, were not injured but are suffering keenly from fatigue. Their plane was forced down by motor trouble as they were nearing the Greenland coast. They were unable to rise again.

The Italian plane was destroyed upon orders from Locatelli and the castaways will be taken to Madridor on board the Richmond.

Washington, Aug. 25.—The American army aviators reeled off another lap of their world flight yesterday, and were at Ivigtut, Greenland last night.

Skirting the coast, they covered the 126 miles from Frederiksdal in a little more than two hours.

In a message announcing arrival of the two planes at Ivigtut, Lieutenant Smith, in command, said motors be changed and both machines completely overhauled before the next lap of the flight—five hundred miles across water to Indian Harbor, Labrador.

Lieutenant Smith made no reference to Lieutenant Locatelli, Italian aviator, who set out with the Americans from Iceland, but failed to arrive with them at Frederiksdal.

Search Continues.

From the cruiser Milwaukee, in waters nearby, came word the search for Lieutenant Locatelli was continuing, and the Danish authorities were cooperating to the utmost.

Lieutenant Smith's message, addressed to Major General Patrick, chief of the army air service, said a pontoon of his plane had been damaged by ice last night, and sailors and natives had been employed to keep the ice away.

A radio dispatch from the Milwaukee gave the terse information the planes took off from Frederiksdal at 1:50 o'clock in the afternoon, Greenwich meantime and had "arrived o. k.," at Ivigtut at 4:09 o'clock—two hours and nineteen minutes alter.

Another message indicated clearly the flight was made today, although army and navy officers here were certain this was not true. Lieutenant Smith's dispatch was not timed or dated. The message from the Milwaukee arrived here at 3:55 o'clock this afternoon, eastern time.

Gratified by Fliers.

The cruiser Raleigh, General Patrick was told, was proceeding to Ray Island, while the cruiser Richmond would continue the search for Lieutenant Locatelli if its supply of fuel permitted.

The Milwaukee sent word a request might be forwarded to have two destroyers sent to the Gulf of Maine to assist in guarding the flight from Pictou Harbor, N. S., to Boston.

Army air service officials were gratified that Lieutenant Smith and his companion had advanced to Ivigtut without mishap, although they had contemplated no difficulty in bridging that relatively short distance.

A real test, it was agreed, faced the two pilots and their mechanics on their next jump, which will be entirely across water, although the distance is considerably shorter than that successfully covered between Iceland and the southern tip of Greenland.

Better Base at Ivigtut.

Supplies are available at Ivigtut to permit a complete overhauling of the two planes, and it was for this reason the aviators swung up the western coast of Greenland, rather than attempt a flight direct to Labrador from Fredericksdal, where only a temporary base with few supplies has been established.

While there was no word from the fliers as to how long they probably would remain at Ivigtut, officials here were of the opinion it would take them a day or so to overhaul their planes.

Davis will return to New York immediately following his speech in Columbus.

"MA" FERGUSON WINS IN TEXAS

WOMAN WINS DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY BY 80,000 VOTES.

AN ANTI-KLAN VICTORY

Her Victory Vindicates Impeached Husband's Name—Election Is Almost Assured.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 25.—Returns from 227 out of 252 counties in the state, 168 incomplete, gave Mrs. Miriam Ferguson 397,936 and Robertson 315,710 for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 25.—Assured of victory by an overwhelming majority for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Texas, Mrs. Miriam "Ma" Ferguson, in a message to the voters of the nation, today pleaded for nation-wide elimination of the Ku Klux Klan which organization supported her opponent in Saturday's run-off primary.

"The resolution adopted in New York by the Democratic national convention can be construed only as a denunciation of the Ku Klux Klan," Mrs. Robertson declared.

"If interpreted as it should be in this light the chances for a national Democratic victory in November will be greatly increased."

Each hour of tabulating the returns found her lead growing in a crushing defeat over Judge Felix D. Robertson, Klan candidate. The latest figures announced her majority as 80,000.

Mrs. Ferguson has received more than 1,000 telegrams congratulating her upon her victory, some of the messages facetitously offering "bed sheets and pillow cases at bargain prices."

The Statement.

Mrs. Ferguson's statement follows:

"After receiving more than 1,000 telegrams today from every part of the state and from people in every walk of life, it is quite evident that my victory in Saturday's primary was a victory for the masses as distinguished from a victory of personality.

"The victory yesterday tells plainer than words what the people think of the Ku Klux Klan after they have had opportunity to observe its workings and purposes. Texas people do know and ought to know from their opportunity more about what the Klan means than any other state in the union, and just as soon as other states have time to learn the real purposes of the Klan and its secret desire to set up here a super-government they will do just like Texas did yesterday and repudiate it in terms unmistakable.

"A Dangerous Combination."

"Stripped of all camouflage every informed person knows that the Klan is based upon religious prejudice and its managements has been put into the hands of the unscrupulous. A more dangerous combination could not threaten the people of any country. It is therefore the duty of every candidate and every party to take the people into complete confidence and let them know their private and public attitude on this question.

"If it can be made to appear to the nation that the Democratic platform, condemning religious intolerance, means, as everybody knows it does mean, emphatic opposition to the Kn Klux Klan, the chance of Democratic success would be increased manifold."

The case, it was announced at the prosecutor's office, will be submitted to the grand jury for examination.

A WORTHWHILE WORK.

Mark Twain was the man who made Missouri famous, about the period when penny-a-liner liars who wrote blood-and-thunder books anent Jesse James were making the State infamous. The fame survives and widens, the infamy has been out-lived.

Opening of the Mark Twain Memorial Park at the edge of Florida, the tiny village in Monroe County where Samuel Langhorne Clemens, the future Mark Twain, was born, drew approximately 6000 Missourians the other day; but it was not merely a rural Missouri event, even though "The "Arkansas Traveler" played by the only left-handed fiddler of authentic record was starred on the program. It was an affair of world-wide interest. For some years before he died Mark Twain was accounted among the most famous men on earth. Emperors and Presidents, even such as William Hohenzollern and Theodore Roosevelt, were no more widely known than was this Missourian, who never held nor even sought public office. There was magic in the name Mark Twain, and that magic deepens as the years add mosses to his grave.

"All the world loves a lover." Mark Twain loved the human race, with certain obvious exceptions. The human race reciprocated; it continues to reciprocate. He was perhaps, the most vitally human of writers. In all his works he never found it necessary to imagine a character or a situation of the improbable or the impossible sort. His men and women, his boys and girls, were natural, normal humans, like himself. Moreover, all his writing was decent and clean and wholesome—though by no means puritanic. Mark Twain had an honest mind, and he never insulted his own intelligence.

Missourians have done well in creating this memorial to the foremost Missourian.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Neither Congress nor the present administration thought enough of American participation on the commission to solve the European tangle to make it official but they are developing a genuine admiration and affection for the work of the Dawes Commission now that it looks like success.

It was promised for John W. Davis that he would do his own thinking and express his views frankly and clearly and he seems to be living up to all advance notices. He has a straightforward, s-t-r-a-i-g-h-t-from-the shoulder way of declaring his views in unmistakable, yet inoffensive, language that must compel admiration and respect.

Foreign workers are pouring into France at the rate of 5,351 a day, but the influx is being absorbed by the manufacturing industries. With the trade revival expected under the terms of the settlement reached at the London conference, France will find room for an even larger immigration.

Premier Herriot of France seems to be made of the right stuff and to have a broader and more far reaching conception of his duty to his country than a good many of his countrymen. In his address yesterday in the Chamber of Deputies, he said: "The idea which dominated all my work at the London conference, was to place France in the right, because I was convinced, in years to come, France's greatest strength would be to be right. To put France in the right, is to assure her security and to say this, is not simply to speak as an idealist, but to remember the lessons of war which too many may have forgotten."

Mr. Dawes says "This is a campaign of brass tacks." Look out for a puncture, Calvin.

LINEBAUGH CABIN NOTED FOR CURIOS

COLLECTION OF 4,000 AT CLEARMONT'S LOST CABIN.

NATIVE WALNUT USED

Timbers From Linebaugh's Father's Farm—Many Stuffed Birds—Admittance to Cabin Is Free.

(St. Joseph News-Press.)

The American doughboy in France was credited with being the greatest souvenir hunter among allied soldiers, but the record for Northwest Missouri undoubtedly is held by William W. Linebaugh of Clearmont, Mo., who, in the last several years has gathered a collection of more than 4,000 curios of great variety.

Mr. Linebaugh's collection ranges from a mounted buffalo head to a mummified Egyption's hand, and from newspaper clippings of a murder to the hangman's noose.

Linebaugh began collecting relics twelve years ago and his first collection embraced twelve guns. He continued this until he had more than 200 fire-pieces. The desire for a wider variety grew on him until he began to add anything of interest he could obtain. Today he has a remarkably interesting collection.

While Mr. Linebaugh was motoring in Montana in 1919 he conceived the idea of building a cabin in which to house and display the curios which had become too numerous for the room used in his home. Upon his return to Clearmont he began work on the cabin, which was completed in 1920, and christened "Lost Cabin."

Made of Native Walnut.

The building is 30 feet wide and 60 feet long, and is made of native walnut cut from a forest on the Linebaugh farm. Only the best timber was used in the building and the interior is finished in walnut, even to the floor, window sills and doors.

Inside there are ten overhead beams and from each of these two electric lights are suspended. Two other light fixtures made of walnut hang in the middle of the room. At either end of the cabin there is a fireplace made of stones gathered in ten states and Canada. The cabin is in a small grove and presents a most picturesque appearance, adding beauty to the pretty town. Viewed from a distance the cabin has the appearance of a building in a far Western settlement. Wild animal skins and horns decorate the exterior.

The greeting at the entrance to the museum is by a sign, "Welcome to Lost Cabin," under which is an iron padlock attached to a strong chain, with a placard reading: "This lock was given to the Linebaugh collection by a jailer at St. Joseph, Mo., and is the lock that was formerly used on the old jail there."

Proves a Real Museum.

Upon entering the cabin the visitor is at once impressed with the atmosphere of a real museum. Stuffed animals, birds, guns and war relics are seen in great variety. All visitors are requested to register in a big book. This register contains the names of 3,199 persons who visited the cabin during the last year, including travelers from all parts of the country.

The collection contains many beautiful things as well as some grewsome ones. Linebaugh says that the rope with which Hez Rasco was hanged at Maryville, Mo., for murder, attracts the greatest attention. Attached to the rope are letters written by Rasco a short time before his execution. Another grewsome exhibit is an Indian chief's hand, taken from a grave, with his war weapons and jewelry, and a mummified Egyption's hand.

There is an inlaid wood table, which is said to have been made by a murdered who was serving a life term, and which took fourteen years in the making.

Animal and Bird Collection.

The animal and bird collection is excellent. Linebaugh in order to be able to preserve his relics took a course in taxidermy and has mounted many of his specimens, including heads of deer, buffalo, elk, mountain sheep, foxes and other animals. There are more than 100 specimens in the animal collection alone. Different varieties of birds of this part of the country also are displayed, as well as fish. The floor of the museum is covered with animal skin rugs, which add further to the primitive appearance. A chair made of buffalo horns is a noticeable adornment.

Linebaugh also displays more than 300 guns and 100 swords and sabers.

In one end of the museum hangs an old grain cradle presented by William E. Spratt of St. Joseph. There is also a file of old newspapers, among which is a copy of the New York Herald containing the story of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln. Another relic is a Bible printed in 1796.

W. W. Linebaugh is a son of Jeff Linebaugh, a retired farmer of Clearmont. The cabin is used by the town folks as a library and recreation place, and card parties are often held there by the women. Once a year Linebaugh gives a party to friends living in that part of the country.

The museum is open to visitors every week day and no admission fee is charged.

Given Absolutely Free

Here is a rare opportunity, for a limited time to secure the necessary stock to set a good "Family Orchard."

We Have Planned to Give Away Five Thousand (5,000) First Class Apple Trees

TO PATRONS NEXT SPRING

(But you must take advantage of this offer promptly.)

To encourage the planting of more good "home orchards," (of which there is at present a great dearth in this section of Mo.), and thereby provide an adequate supply of home grown fruit, especially Apples— the "King of Fruits;" to double the purchasing power of the farmers' dollar! to advertise our stock and introduce it more generally among farmers and home owners all over Northwest Missouri, we have decided that, to each and every patron who orders of us—before these 5,000 trees are all allotted—as many as 25 First Class Apple Trees, 2 or 3 years old, 5 to 6 feet high, at our regular list price of 50 cents each, for delivery here at the Nursery in the spring of 1925.

We Will Give 25 First Class Apple Trees

2 or 3 years old, 5 to 6 feet high, all choice, highest quality varieties of our selection as a special inducement to set out an ideal acre orchard of Apples. (30 by 30 feet between trees, which is about the right distance, requires 50 trees to an acre).

You may select your list of varieties (of the 25 trees you order,) from any of the varieties we have in stock. Our stock includes most all the leading and best kinds for Northwest Missouri. We will give you the 25 premium trees of our selection of the choicest and best varieties. These trees are now growing here in our Nursery at Maryville, and they must be received here at our Packing Grounds in the spring of 1925. We positively will not ship any trees ordered under this special offer.

This offer is subject only to one condition, namely: Your order must be received before this 5,000 allotment has all been taken. Our free offer will automatically expire whenever that number has been set aside for our patrons.

It makes no difference whether you are an old or a new patron. All that is necessary is to get your order in in time.

We anticipate that many will act promptly on this liberal proposition; and have set the number to be given away at so large a total, because we want to encourage the growing of more fruit, and better fruit, and to make it easy for a large number (all who accept in time), to secure a good home orchard.

You can buy GOOD STOCK of all kinds from your home nursery at about one-third to one-half of the prices charged by agents for outside or distant nurseries. Our complete Spring Price List will be out about Dec. 1, but you should not delay accepting our Special Offer. Other stock may be ordered later, if desired, from our complete list, but that might be too late for this offer. Fill in the order blank Coupon below and mail it in to us. You need not pay us a cent until you call for the trees next Spring.

All orders will be acknowledgesd promptly.

MOVING PICTURES

"A Son of the Sahara," produced in Algeria by Edwin Carewe with Bert Lytell and Claire Windsor in the leading roles, described as the most elaborate desert romance ever filmed, appears at the Empire Theater tonight and tomorrow night.

The following went into the making of the picture:

12,500 Arabs, 8,000 camels, 2,500 horses, Spahii cavalry of the French government, Senegalese troops, mounted and afoot, Uulad Nail dancing girls from Biskra.

In one of the scenes alone, 587 camels appeared in a great caravan, while the others are shown at different periods of the picture. The entire population of two Algerian desert villages, turned out to appear as atmosphere in certain scenes. "A Son of the Sahara" is a First National attraction.

Communication

We, the members of Nodaway County W. C. T. U. in convention assembled, render thanks and praise to our heavenly father for the guidance and blessings that have furthered our work for temperance the past year and have a firm belief in his continuance of the same.

Believing that the foundation of the 18th amendment was laid in the school room, the result of instruction given according to law to all pupils in public schools.

Therefore, be it, Resolved that we encourage the continuance of such teaching co-operating with local, county and state school authorities and recommend the use of our temperance programs in the observance of the special days in the Sunday schools of our state.

Believing that the law as embodied in the 18th amendment written in the constitution by the will of the people insures life, liberty and prosperity. Therefore, be it Resolved, that we call upon the pulpit, the press, all organizations and individual citizens of the state to stand for the enforcement thereof as provided for in the Volstead Act and also the state enforcement act.

Resolved, that we deplore the influence of the 44 organizations of the wets that are seeking to modify the Volstead Act by raising the alcoholic content of beverages from ½ of 1 per cent to 2 3-4 per cent, and we urge the increased membership of the W. C. T. U. in Washington, D. C., as a counteracting force before Congress.

We desire to extend a vote of thanks to the Clearmont union for their hospitality to the pastor of the M. E. Church for the use of the building and the co-operation and splendid spirit manifested in a general way.

ENGLISH LABOR RULES SANELY

HAS COMPLETED ITS FIRST SESSION IN POWER.

FOE FEARED A TEST

Taxation Has Been Reduced, Soviet Recognized, Unemployment Slightly Reduced.

London, August 25.—Labor has come to the end of its first milestone in British Government and can look back with some pride.

When the Labor Party took up the reins of Government there was a great cry sent up that "Labor is not fit to rule!" Now the first session of a Labor Parliament has ended, and the British Empire still stands. There have been no great catastrophes, and there are no present threats of revolution. On the face of things, to a disinterested onlooker, it seems that Labor has proven its fitness to rule.

"The Labor Government has finished its first session, and its work must commend itself to the great mass of people who care for social well-being and national prosperity," Premier Ramsay MacDonald declared.

Foes Feared Test.

This statement might be set down as mere political assertiveness and boastfulness were it not for the very obvious fact that none of the opposition parties have been sure enough of their power to test strength with the Government in a general election. When the session came to an end in the closing days of July and August there were numberless opportunities for both the Tories and the Liberals to bring on a general election, but they failed to grasp these opportunities. It seems probable, that they did not dare, for the very simple reason that they did not feel that the Labor Government was in a sufficiently weak position to be brought before the people of the country for trial. The chances are that these opposition seers sensed the truth that Labor's rule had been such that it might gain more strength if it were hauled into the court of a general election.

Labor in power has had some fine achievements.

Taxation has been reduced by $150,000,000. Opponents of Labor explain that a similar reduction would have been made by any other party.

The Labor Government has succeeded where two previous governments failed—namely in bringing the reparations problem to a settlement.

Soviet Recognized.

Labor has recognized Russia and has entered into a treaty with the Soviet Government—an achievement which is questioned by the poosition but which may prove its worth in coming months.

Housing conditions will be bettered when Labor's program is carried out, although the opposition again claims that Labor merely carried out proposals put forth by previous governments.

Three serious strikes have been settled by the Labor Government.

Disarmament conferences to reduce land and air forces are on the program of the Government.

The unemployment situation is slightly better, at least, no worse, and trade has not suffered.

Labor has acted where previous governments merely proposed to act.

The outstanding fact in Labor's regime, however, is that critics of Labor have been utterly confounded, and those who six months ago made dire predictions of a bolshevik England in red ruin now blush when they read the speeches they made.

Autumn will find Labor back before Parliament in a position that promises to bring increasing strength.

Few Points Separate Leaders in the Majors

Both New York Teams Are Leading By Scant Margin—Kansas City Almost in the Cellar.

Approximately six more weeks before the World Series again and the leaders in the American League are tied up so closely that a game thrown away here and there may cost any of the four teams the pennant. In the National League the Giants have it pretty much their own way but have been pushed and hammered into an extremely hot position by the Smoky city of Pennsylvania.

The Yanks lost to Detroit yesterday while the Senators won their third straight from the Pale Sox, cutting the Yanks lead over Washington down to one point. The standing of the teams in the first division of the American League counting yesterday's games:

New York, .571; Washington, .570; Detroit, .550; St. Louis, .513. St. Louis has been dragging along above the .500 point but seems unable to make its spurts continue. Yesterday Cleveland walloped the Browns 8 to 1.

While the Yanks were being defeated yesterday the Giants lost to the Cubs, 6-1 and the Cards handed Brooklyn a double-header defeat. The Giants now head the percentage column with .619; Pittsburg next at .586; Brooklyn in third place at .550 and Chicago close with .552. St. Louis is in sixth position being one of the three teams below the .500 mark, at .433.

St. Paul leads the American Association with a percentage of .578 and is followed closely by Indianapolis at .576. Kansas City is next to the cellar at .452. The Blues broke even with St. Paul yesterday.

Robert Hostetter and son, Howard, spent the week end in Stanberry where they attended a camp meeting. They also visited Mr. Hostetter's son, Roy Hostetter, who was one of the speakers at the meeting.

Edith Katharyn Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Smith announce the birth of a daughter, August 19, to whom they have given the name Edith Katharyn.

"R. F. D No. 3" Is Croy's Next Novel

According to the book review column in the Kansas City Journal, Homer Croy is working on a new novel which will appear in the fall. The name of his new book is "R. F. D. No. 3.'" The Journal speaks of its coming out as a "real fall event."

Dr. H. T. Clayton, daughter Marguerite and son Kenneth, of Washington, D. C., who have been visiting the last week at Dr. Clayton's parents Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clayton, left this morning for their home. They went by the way of Des Moines, Ia., where Mrs. H. T. Clayton has been at her mother's bedside.
